GREEN HOPELESS. SAYS SENATE WILL PASS LABOR CURBS

WASHINGTON: William Green, AFL president, told a news conference yesterday he had given up hope for preventing Congress from passing labor legislation including new union curbs. Republican Senator Taft of Ohio led debate on the Senate bill, slightly modified version of the severe labor bill passed by the House. Taft stated, 'many hundreds of thousands of smaller employers are at the mercy of unions and union leaders." The Senate Labor Committee's bill, he said, seeks to remove "injustices frozen in" the Wagner Collective Bargaining Act.

WALLACE SAYS U. S. SEEMS UTTERLY IMPERIALISTIC

PARIS: The United Nations should be used, said Henry Wallace here esterday, as the instrument for the U. S. to obtain Saudi-Arabian oil. This, he contended, would not make America "seem so utterly damn imperialistic." The former vice-president has been enthusiastically received by the left-wing pess but ignored in other quarters. Wednesday he proposed a substantial American loan to Russia.

Kelleher said the system was simple. He was advising those who made inquiries from all over the nation: 'just take an inventory and then cut prices 10 per cent all the way along the line." Enthusiasm for the Newburyport plan is reported to be sweeping the nation.

Roche, he was given 5 years probation.

MAYHEM ATTEMPT DENIED BY DOCTOR

BAKERSFIELD: On the witness stand, Dr. Daniel Berni on Wednesday denied that he intended to kill or mutilate Attorney Oscar Catalano when he shot the lawyer on January 2. Berni testified that his wife admitted being intimate with the lawyer. He said that Catalano had offered her $50 per day to assist him in allegedly illicit phases of his law practice. Testimony related that Berni visited Catalano's office and said: "You showed me how you practice law. I will show you how I practice medicine. Lie down."

Idaho To Pay 10 Cents Per Share

SAN FRANCISCO: E. I. Oliver, president of the Idaho Maryland Mines Corporation was quoted in financial circles today as expecting his company to pay a token dividend in 1947, probably 10 cents a share.

Oliver is said to have expressed satisfaction with progress in rehabilitating the mine properties. The future outlook is considered promising and a profit level is expected this year in spite of current wage levels and rising costs.

A report states the present crew of 450 is able to mine and send to the mill a tonnage equal to the amount of 800 miners produced in prewar years. Contributing to this result are improved equipment, better methods and a system of incentive of contract work, which has given the miners a higher income based upon ore production per man.

The capacity of the Brunswick mill is being increased approximately 50 per cent. The firm has installed its own sawmill resulting in substantial savings. Work in the Idaho Maryland has tended to carry in the direction of the Brunswick so it now is economical to send some of the Idaho Maryland ore to the Brunswick mill.

CENTENNIAL MARKERS TO BE MADE OF TIN

NEVADA CITY: Centennial markers was the main topic of discussion at Wednesday night's meeting of the Hostorical Society's Historic Sites Coommittee with Chamber of Commerce representatives. The meeting was held at 8 p. m. in the latter organization's room in the city hall.

Funeral For Slain Man

GRASS VALLEY: Funeral services were held this afternoon for John Owen Brownfield, 48, whose body was found along side the Marysville Highway Saturday afternoon, with a shotgun wound in the back of his head indicating he had been murdered.

The services took place, following arrangements made by his widow, Mrs. Rose Brownfield of Yuba City, in the Hooper and Weaver Mortuary. Rev. Jesse R. Rudkin conducted the services. Interment was in the Elm Ridge Cemetery.

Brownfield's body was found wrapped in an auto robe by two motorists who ran out of gas at that point. His wife was located by the Marysville police in Yuba City. She stated she had not seen her husband since Wednesday night, April 16, when he left with a stranger he had brought home to dinner in the Vada Motel apartment where the Brownfields lived. Mrs. Brownfield said her husband had on his person approximately $700 when he disappeared. When searched after discovery of his body, he had but a few dollars in change in his pokets.

THURMAN FRUIT BILLS PASSED BY ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO: Two bills of interest to the fruit growers of area were approved by the Assembly on Tuesday.

The bills were introduced by Asseemblyman Scoop Thurman in behalf of the growers of the district.

AB No. 1085 amends the Agricultural Code relating to standards for fresh pears. During the war years the director of agriculture was given certain emergency powers by the legislature under these powers and with the advice and consent of the fresh pear industry, and with the complete support of the California Tree Fruit Agreement which under federal law embraces within its membership all the growers and shippers of fresh pears in California, he instituted the language with respect to damage caused by codling moth larvae which the bill now seeks to include in the Agricultural Code. These emergency standards were canceled out on December 31, 1946, with the end of hostilities. The bill has an urgency clause so that if passed and signed by the governor will become effective this season.

AB 1086 amends the standards for plums and fresh prunes, and as in the case of pears, is merely designed to include in the Agricultural Code emergency standards with respect to hail damaged plums which were made effective during the war period by the director of Agriculture under his emergency powers.

Rector, Dr. Rector's parents plan to meet the incoming ship arrivals and to escort them to Nevada City, where the doctor will spend the major portion of his terminal leave vacation at the Rector home on Nevada Street, enjoying a well earned rest, and relaxing in the enjoyment of meeting his many old friends, preparatory to re-entering his medical practice.

SEASON OPENS MAY 1ST NORTH OF MIDDLE FORK OF THE YUBA RIVER

NEVADA CITY: Fly fishing will probably be the best fishing on opening of the season May 1st in Sierra and other counties north of the Middle Yuba River on May 1st. South of the Middle Yuba, states Game Warden Earl Hiscox, fishing in lakes and streams is closed until May 30th, Decoration Day.

Hiscox declares that due to subnormal rainfall and snowfall the fishing season opens with conditions very similar to those of midsummer in normal the streams are low and clear and the weather sufficiently mild to make lake fishing good.

He thinks salmon and royal coachman flies will bring good results on opening day in Sierra County. He states all the creeks flowing in on the north side of the Middle Yuba will give fishermen many limits on opening day. Oregon Creek in Yuba County is one of the most notable of fishing streams that flows into the Middle Yuba.

Since Nevada County is closed to fishing until May 30th, Decoration Day, it is anticipated the big rush of anglers on May 1st will center on Sierra County. Hiscox warns that fishing on the Middle Yuba must be done from the north bank in Sierra County and not from the south bank in Nevada County where the season does not optn until 30 days later.

In Sierra County the North Fork, Hiscox states, is low and clear and all the streams flowing into it are in admirable condition for fishing. Above Downieville are many streams, including the North Fork of the North Fork, of the Yuba River which normally yield good catches every year, but are usually much later than is the case this year. Canyon Creek, not to be confused with Canyon Creek in Nevada County, flowing into the North Yuba in the vicinity of Brand City in Sierra County he said, should offer an excellent opportunity for fly fishermen.

Usually the high lakes are not accessible on May 1st, but this year Hiscox declares, fishing should be good with the opening of the season. As a rule roads to many of the high lakes are not open until June 1st. This week he drove up to Lake Bowman in Nevada County, and reported the road was clear of snow. In fact, returning by way of Graniteville, he found the road dusty. He believes Webber, Milton, Sardine, Salmon and all the lakes, such as Gold Lake, in the country north of the Sierra Buttes will be accessible and offer fishermen good sport on opening day.

Hiscox warns, however, that the new regulation of the Fish and Game Commission which sets Decoration Day as the opening of the fishing season in Nevada County, will be rigorously enforced.

WHAT NEVADA COUNTY NEEDS MOST OF ALL

Nevada County needs to be promoted, with all its attractions made known to the entire world. All the work the chambers of commerce do in the county is fine. It's leading in the right direction.

But the main chance lies in the state-wide and nation-wide publicity. There are only two ways to get this publicity—by advertising in mass circulation publications which reach large metropolitan audiences, in this state and elsewhere; and by staging newsworthy events (such as the coming Fourth of July celebration) that will rightly entitle us to publicity on a state and national scale.

Nevada City and Grass Valley have as many charms and attractions as many other residential and tourist centers (i. e. Carmel, Santa Barbara, and others). To grow and prosper as they have done, we must do what they did to build what they've got—advertise, promote, publicize.

The greatest golden harvest of all or this county will be the tourist trade—IF we go after it ENERGETICALLY and INTELLIGENTLY. H. M. L. Jr.

COUNTY VETS NEWS

GRASS VALLEY: With preparations nearly complete for state sale of surplus barracks and other buildings to veterans in various parts of California, the Nevada County Veterans Service Office toda urged former servicemen who are interested in the program to file applications for elegibilty as soon as possible.

The applications are needed, this office explains, to enable the State Department of Finance to determine wha type and how many buildings to purchase when they become available in the different localities.

Veterans will be able to purchase the buildings including equipment for a fixed price. Many of these buildings will contain plumbing and lighting fixtures, heating equipment and other facilities, as well as windows and doors. The structures must be converted to housing and used exclusively by veterans.

Sales will be for cash, to permit reuse of the $1,000,000 revolving fund set up by the legislature to carry out the program, but veterans will be permitted to make a substantial deposit at the site and then be given a few days in which to arrange for a bank or other financing to complete the purchase.

Veteran purchasers may remove the buildings themselves or arrange with a contractor to do the job.

To apply for elegibilty, a veteran should take a certified or photographic copy of his discharge, or other release from the service to the Nevada County Veterans Service office located at 310 W. Main Street, Grass Valley.

The State Department of Veterans Affairs will vertify elegibility after which the veteran will be notified by the Department of Finance of any sales planned for his vicinity.

TROUT SEASON OPENS AT LITTLEROCK RESERVOIR

Opening day of trout season found some 4000 anglers gathered at Littlerock reservior, Los Angeles County, reports National Automobile Club. About 1800 fishermen crowded the lake with boats and clustered thickly along the shore. Although the aveage take of some 300 of these fishermen was 4 to 5 trout about 20 limits of trout were checked in.

STRIPERS TAKEN IN SACRAMENTO COUNTY

Streams were high and muddy in Sacramento County last week, yet stripedbass fishing was fair. Some stripers were taken by bait fishing in the area near Rio Vista and Decker Island, in the Mokelumne River, Steamboat Slough and the Sacramento River.

APPLY BRAKES GENTLY

Quick, positive braking means locked wheels and locked wheels slide. Sudden application of the brakes and consequent sliding of the tires is a costly practice on a dry road, but when the roadway is wet and slippery it may end in disaster.

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Our prize corn tossle, Henry Wallace, has been welcomed by a big communist committee in Paris, headed by the notorious Jacques DuClose. Have to hand it to those Frenchmen, they know a brother under the skin. Dispatches don't say whether Wallace and DuClose hugged and kissed each other. But it would not be surprising. Henry has gone far since he left the Iowa prairies. Henry's reception in England, especially by the press, did not butter his bread much. But in France his welcome is warm, not to say red hot. Whether he ever will be able to wash all the tar off his hands on his return to this country, we doubt.

As Henry progresses in his tour and his attempt to discredit abroad the foreign policy of his native country, we will probably note that his welcome grows warmer as he approaches Moscow. We haven't a doubt but Joe Stalin will give him a bear hug and kiss on either cheek. That will compensate him, perhaps, for shamed oblivion to which his own country is reluctantly consigning him. It may be that, if and when he reaches Moscow, he will preach the peace at any price he is now preaching for his own country. To be consistent he should try to persuade big hearted Joe that in the long run the revolution will pay off best if he bides his time and does some little thing now make the U. S. happier about the Reds and their truculent swagger over eastern Europe.

The trouble with Henry is he just has to have the limelight. He doesn't stop to think how cheap he is in the eyes of his fellow Americans. Both Democrats and Republicans regard his words abroad as little short of traitorous. But in our view the State Department should not do any passport cancelling and cut short his tour. They should just let him have all the rope it takes to hang himself.

If Henry would ever come up with any scheme for getting on with Russia short of force, with any plan for establishing good neighborly relations with the Russian politbubo, we could forgive him for getting off the beam once in awhile. But Henry apparently is willing to ship the Statue of Liberty to Moscow if only we can have peace.

We are inclined to think with Henry Wallace that Russia is undergoing a transformation, that the last thirty years has been a stage in her development that may ultimately lead to a democracy similar in some respects to our own. But when we think of the small group, ten men perhaps, who keep Russia in their tight despotic grip, carefully planning the succession of their power, it would seem as if the "wait and see" policy of some of our isolationists and pacifists, such as Henry, would be a very dangerous policy indeed. We have already waited two years since the war ended in Europe and we have seen a lot, none of it reassuring.

WATCH POSTED LIMITS

When driving into areas with which you are not familiar, suggests Bert Stawart, Public Safety Director of National Automobile Club, be on the lookout for posted speed limits and obey them. City limits are posted plainly and by expetcing them, then obeying the posted speed, motorists will prevent embarrassment and perhaps delay in a strange city.

DRIVING CHTCK HELPFUL

The manner in which a car is operated very frequently is a definite key to the service it requires. This is not a new idea but it is one that is lost to sight by many car owners much of the time. Because he had to have a new clutch place installed recently, a veteran motorist discovered he had been riding the clutch. He would not have believed it of himself if he hadn't checked up.

NEW GASKETS BEST

The motorist will find it pays to specify new gaskets in the reassembly of the power plant when having any adjustment or repair made to the engine that involves the removal of any kind. It happens occasionally that the desire to cut the cost of the repair results in the mechanic's effort to use the old gasket again. It results too frequently in failure regardless of the good intention. It should be avoided.

ROADS AFFECT LIGHTS

If a car is taken over rough roads at high speeds for a considerable period, National Automobile Club declares the headlight adjustment is likely to be adversely affected. It will pay to have the focusing and aiming of the lights checked at reasonable periods.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"As Homelike As a Barn"

Cy Hartman finally got his new barn painted, but plenty of folks had a hand in it. Whenever someone got a free day, or a little extra time, they'd come over and help out with paint and brush.

And Cy, to show his appreciation, held a big "barn warming" Saturday—for all the folks who'd helped him (but not barring those who couldn't). Ma Hartman supplied sandwiches, and Cy rolled out a mellow keg of beer.

You'd never think of a barn as "homelike." But with those lanterns hanging from the rafters; makeshift tables spread heavy with food; and Ed Carey's fiddle playing while the folks enjoyed their beer—Cy's barn was sure a mighty hospitable-looking place!

From where I sit, it's just about as appropriate to have a barn warming as a housewarming ... if only because it's another chance to get neighbors together in a spirit of good fellowship.

CARBON STILL WITH US

Because of anti-knock gasoline many car owners think that carbon has been entirely eliminated, declares National Automobile Club. To a certain extent this is true but there still is a lot or carbon in the automobiles running around the streets and highways. Carbon interferes with engine efficiency and it pays to check up on the engine once in a while instead of assuming that carbon is out of the picture.

CAMPTONVILLE NEWS

By MRS. J. D. RITTENHOUSE

The Camptonville Society of Christian Sevice sponsored a pot luck supper at the church Wednesday evening.

NARCOTICS MAN DISCUSSES CRIME

The Gold Flat PTA held its regular meeting last Friday evening, April 18th, which was well attended with a notable increase in the number of fathers.

Discussions were held on the possibilities of securing a school crossing on the lower Grass Valley road and a committee was named to contact all parents interested in this subject. A committee was also named to sponsor a food sale which will be held May 10 in Nevada City.

Mr. Hanley reported that he was having trouble in getting enough members for his scout club but that the boys who have enrolled are very enthusiastic. Efforts will also be made to organize Girl Scouts or Brownies if a leader can be found.

Refreshments in the form of sandwiches, cake, and coffee were served after the meeting by a committee consisting of Mrs. McClish, Powell, Lewis and Stevenson.

BROAD STREET

By

Harley M. Leete, Jr.

Looking into my crystal 8-ball, I see the membership of the culinary union with an extremely unhappy expression on its face. Its hand is in its pocket. It is digging out moola, at the rate of $1 per week per capita to finance the Valley Grill pickets. The culinary workers, no plutocrats, don't like these involuntary contributions. Can I be right in my surmise that the number of paid-up members is diminishing rapidly?

I am unreluctant to report that May 1st, the day communists traditionally drool and holler throughout the world, will have attached to it a much pleasanter significance in this area. That will be the day all true Americans blossom out in beards or western garb. Best fixed man so far is Big Ray Kronemyer, who has already adorned his 6 foot 3 frame with the fanciest cowboy garb yet, and thrown in a perfectly good mustache to boot.

At present the beard-growers, except for Lyman Gilmore, Nevada County's unsung Wright brother, are mostly at the grisly, or awful-to-meet-in-a-dark alley stage.

Before a crackling fire at a well known club not far from Glenbrook I heard the other day a tale of fishing that will make you want to reach for your airplane. Not far from here, by air, is an place marked on forest service maps as "desolation area." There are no habitations there, no roads, and scarcely any trails.

There's a stream, of course, and a thick growth of pines. And there's a smooth white beach exactly 283 feet long, with enough space at either end so that a little plane can land and take off. The brook, of course, is alive with trout. Only three men, who come and go by air, fish it. For only three men know of this trout mecca.

After their first visit, the trio of fishermen, laden with trout, climbed back into the little plane and took off. They skimmed over the tops of the tall pines and were air-borne at 2,000 feet above a valley floor. Then and there they resolved to impart the location of their trout haven to no one else.

Signs of the times department: The number of the jovial tribe of salesmen who call on us in our shop is increasing weekly. Gone are the days of pleading for merhandise and paper stocks.

Delighted to see that the old merchandising psychology of the "sale" at slashed prices is coming back. These functions, natch, call for the big BIG ads, than which nothing is dearer to the newspaperman's heart.

File this away under gloomy predictions: The little business man is in for a period of invigorating but intense competition. He stands as good chance as anyone to get caught in the great "squeeze" which a recession or depression would bring, as anyone. There's one situation in our economic set-up more trying than being a smaller employer in these times, and that's—working for somebody else.

William Rose, whose column in the Chronicle, "Ptiching Horseshoes" is only one million times more interesting than this writer's efforts, had one on "gold" the other day. He related a chat he had with Bernard Baruch. The silver-topped Wall Street wizard and the little showman discussed why gold was necessary. Baruch related a story that he said he once told Franklin Roosevelt.

A few years ago a chest dating from the time of Alexander was uncovered by archeologists. There were some gold coins in it, and some paper flat money. The coins, after a scant 2000 years, were just as valuable and transferable as the day they were minated in Athens. The paper money was excellent for cleaning shoes with or wiping off a razor blade.

Perhaps Roosevelt was impressed with Baruch's anecdote, for he kept right on buying gold.

Kingdom Strengthened and Enlarged — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—I Samuel 18-20; II Samuel 5:1-I Kings 2:11.

Saul's son, Jonathan, loved David "as his own soul," and Jonathan stripped himself of his robe and gave it to David, and even his sword and his bow and girdle.

David used to play the harp for Saul, so that his evil spirit was quieted, but one day Saul, jealous of David, cast his javelin at the youth to kill him, but David escaped.

After Saul's death David was chosen to reign over Judah, and after seven years the elders of Israel came together and anointed him to be king also over Israel as well.

After the Israelites had defeated the Philistines, David had the Ark of the covenant brought into the city of David with music and dancing.

MEMORY VERSE—Gal. 5:13.

John Wanamaker, one of America's most famous and successful business men is credited with this sound advice:

"If there is one enterprise on earth that a quitter should leave alone, it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year until it exerts an irresistible power."

Where Does The Telephone Strike Stand Today?

Because you, as a telephone user, have an important stake in the issue, we'd like to give some straight answers to questions you may have about the strike situation up to date.

1. Why is there a telephone strike?

The unions made large demands. We could not agree to these demands but offered to extend contracts while bargaining continued. But the unions refused. We then offered to arbitrate the basic issue, wages. The unions again refused and went out on strike.

2. What are the unions demanding?

They are demanding scores of changes which would, if granted, amount to an increase of more than $100,000,00 a year in the cost of telephone service.
This amount is five times our 1946 earnings.
It would make our payroll alone larger than all the money we took in last year.

3. What do these demands mean to telephone users?

The union demands equal $45 per year added to each telephone bill . . . a 40 per cent increase in all telephone rates.

4. How well are telephone employees paid now?

Studies show telephone wages are in line with those paid for other jobs on the coast requiring similar skill and training . . . telephone wage rates now average 58 per cent above the 1941 level. Here are typical examples:
OPERATORS—Even a girl right out of school starts at a basic rate of $30 a week while learning—in small towns, $28 to 29. Actual earnings are higher due to overtime and premium pay. There are frequent pay raises, too. At the end of the first year the new operator can be earning over $1900 a year. A supervising operator can earn over $2700 per year working a 5-day week.
PLANT MAINTENANCE MEN:—Actual earnings of many experienced men last year were more than $5000. The basic rate for inexperienced men is $34 at the start and scales up to $72. Overtime and premium pay are in addition.

5. What other benefits do employees get?

Among other extra advantages are paid vacations up to three weeks depending on length of service . . . holidays with pay . . . sickness and death benefits . . . pensions . . . good working conditions.
And telephone work is steady work . . . the kind a person can count on.

6. Why can't the Company agree to union demands?

Wages and other costs of service are paid by the people who use the telephone. We can't give blanket agreement to the unions' huge demands because we cannot justify them to our customers who pay the bill.

7. How has the Company tried to end the strike?

We wanted to extend the liberal working contracts while bargaining continued. But the unions refused. We repeatedly offered to submit the wage question . . . the basic issue . . . to arbitration. But the unions continue to refuse.
We have offered the unions a practical plan to settle the strike . . . A plan that is fair equally to our employees, investors and customers.

8. When will the strike be over?

We don't know. But we believe that no matter how long the strike lasts, it is in the public interest to face it rather than to capitulate to the unions' huge demands which would require large increases in telephone rates.

Meanwhile we will continue to do our best to handle your calls.
Calls from dial to dial telephones, which make the bulk of calls in many cities, are completed without interruption. Many calls which require the service of an operator are also being completed.
Many Telephone Company people are working days and nights on strenuous shifts to keep service going. They have been joined by many others who put the public interest first. We appreciate this loyalty.
We wish to thank the public for their helpful cooperation during this troublesome period.
